Orquesta La Inspiracion Garden Concert*

Photos by Barbara Barefield

Our annual Latin Jazz World Music concert is always a favorite. Orquesta La Inspiracion, founded by Puerto Rican congera Ozzie Rivera and under the musical direction of award-winning jazz pianist/composer Bill Meyer, is a large ensemble of some of the Detroit area's most talented and knowledgeable Latin musicians.

La Inspiracion features a hot horn section led by saxophonist Chris Kaercher, explosive percussions driven by top Latin musicians including Ozzie, rhythmic bassist Eddie Caraballo, and soulful vocals with the dynamic Dulce Checkler and others. The beats of salsa, merengue, cumbia and Afro-Caribbean jazz will entice you to dance as you enjoy the music and a tasty Latin-style meal prepared by our own Eva Garza Dewaelsche served during intermission.

Holiday Celebration

A. SPENCER BAREFIELD & FRIENDS

Saturday, December 29, 8 pm

Vocalist Isis Damil, a relatively newcomer on the scene, joins forces with four jazz legends to kick-off our 12th season of Music in Homes. Only in her twenties, her voice has the depth, richness and passion of an older and more seasoned singer. The daughter of two jazz musicians, her DNA is infused with music, propelling her to merge her Classical training with jazz, funk, fusion, neo-soul, scat, rap and R&B. Creating the holiday spirit with Isis will be pianist supreme Cliff Monear and three Kresge Artist Fellows: guitarist A. Spencer Barefield, and bassist Marion Hayden and percussionist Gayelynn McKinney, two of the founders of the all-women's Atlantic Records sensation Straight Ahead.

Cliff Monear

Barefield, the artistic director of Music in Homes, is "an extraordinary guitarist/composer" according to JazzTimes. He has performed extensively throughout Europe and the U.S. leading his own ensembles and with jazz greats Roscoe Mitchell, Lester Bowie, Oliver Lake, Andrew Cyrille, and Richard Davis, to name a few. Marion and Gayelynn are two of the most in-demand musicians on both the local and national scene, and have performed with numerous jazz veterans, including Marcus Belgrave, Geri Allen, Sonny Fortune, Steve Turre, James Carter, and Regina Carter.

The festivities include a delicious light meal, gourmet desserts, and sparkling wine for a pre-New Year's Eve toast.

Saturday, January 26, 8 pm
Mardi Gras Celebration:
Alvin Waddles & Fats Waller Review

Experience an evening of rich jazz history when pianist/vocalist Alvin Waddles plays the music of stride and ragtime legends Fats Waller, Jelly Roll Morton, Cab Calloway, the Gershwin brothers, and other greats. Widely popular for his central roles in Ain't Misbehavin' and Too Hot to Handel, Waddles will tickle the ivories with his dynamic ensemble: bassist Marion Hayden, trumpeter John Douglas and percussionist Djallo Djakate Keita. Waddles has worked with some of the world's finest musicians, including Robert Shaw, Brazeal Dennard, Aretha Franklin, Anita Baker, Placido Domingo, George Shirley, Marcus Belgrave, Tramaine Hawkins and others. To get into the spirit, masks, beads and Mardi Gras attire are encouraged. During intermission, fill your plate with creole-style favorites—jambalaya, red beans, rice, and corn bread.

Saturday, February 23, 8 pm
Honoring Black History Month
Marcus Elliot Trio

This homage to Black Music features an ensemble of exceptionally gifted young musicians who will perform innovative and legendary works of jazz from bebop to avant garde and beyond, from the 20th century to now. Saxophonist Marcus Elliot leads the trio featuring bassist Brian Juarez and drummer Everett Reid.

Creating new waves in the music scene as a sax man, composer, improviser, and educator, Marcus "represents the next generation of jazz" according to the Detroit Free Press. Impressively, The New York Times describes him as "convincing and confident, evolved in touch and tone."

Marcus travels the world as a musical ambassador through the American Voices program, where he has collaborated with musicians from South Africa, Namibia, Botswana, Egypt, Jordan, Indonesia, and gyzstan. This will be an exciting evening music with a soul-food inspired meal ing intermission.

Musique Noire World Music Sextet

Musique Noire are veteran players who have performed with high-profile artists, including Stevie Wonder, KEM, Aretha Franklin, El DeBarge, and Frank McComb, among many others. Led by violinist/flutist Michelle May, a 2018 Detroit Kresge Artist Fellow, the ensemble produces a sophisticated sound showcasing unique arrangements of world fusion music. Musicians include Leslie Deshazor Adams on viola, JoVia Armstrong on percussion, Leah Lucas Celebi on viola and violin, Elden Kelly on guitar, and Marion Hayden on bass.

Expect to hear originals from their debut CD Good Hair, brimming with funk, Latin, world music and jazz. Their latest, Reflections: We Breathe, celebrates women warriors of the arts with originals and covers of Nina Simone and Eileen Ivers. Honored as the 2015 Best Black Female Jazz Group by Black Women in Jazz Awards in Atlanta, Musique Noire performed and presented at the 2018 TEDx Detroit.

Saturday, April 27, 8 pm
Kisma Jordan with Harpist Maurice Draughn

Not many people can front a jazz ensemble, sing Strauss' Four Last Songs, lead a hip-hop band at the Sidewalk for Performing Arts Festival, and perform a contemporary song cycle within a summer's time.

Beyond Classical: OperaSoul

But Kisma Jordan can. "A shimmering soprano voice," according to The New York Times, Kisma is a Metropolitan Opera National Council winner, has appeared with Lyric Opera of Chicago, Michigan Opera Theatre, Omaha Symphony Orchestra, and collaborated with Derrick May and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, keeping one foot in the classical world and one charting new pathways as a singer-songwriter and musician. Her creative talent has been acknowledged as a Kresge Artist Fellow and as a Knight Foundation Arts Challenge recipient. Harpist Maurice Draughn, a protégé of Kresge Eminent Artist Patricia Terry-Ross, has soloed with the International Symphony, Rochester Symphony, Plymouth Symphony, Michigan Philharmonic, and Detroit Symphony Civic Orchestra. He has also performed with luminaries such as Aretha Franklin and Ray Charles.

Detroit Jazz Ambassadors

Memorial Day Weekend Garden Concert* Celebrate the return of summer with a quintet of fiery musicians, including saxophonists Dave McMurray and Alex Harding, who will blow the top off the tent, with guitarist A. Spencer Barefield, organist Jim Alfredson and drummer Djallo Djakate Keita. The legendary Blue Note label, which released McMurray's newest CD Music Is Life, describes McMurray as having "cemented his reputation for versatility by playing with a vast array of musicians that include B.B. King, The Rolling Stones, Bob Dylan, Iggy Pop, Patti Smith, Bonnie Raitt, Johnny Hallyday, Gladys Knight, Albert King, Nancy Wilson, KEM, Bootsie Collins, Herbie Hancock, Geri Allen, and Bob James. ... McMurray sounds as assured and inspired in a rock, R&B, funk, pop or folk setting as he does playing hard bop." His credits also include the trailblazers Was (Not Was) and Griot Galaxy.

Dave McMurray

Fellow saxophonist Harding is another powerhouse, known for his mastery of the baritone saxophone. JazzTimes elaborates: "he attacked the music with steamroller momentum and uncommon ferocity. ... it was sheer fireworks." He has returned to his Detroit hometown after performing for decades in New York-based ensembles with some of the giants of jazz, including Hamiet Bluiett, Charles Mingus, Lester Bowie, and Sun Ra All-Star Project. More recently he's worked with Roy Hargrove and Aretha Franklin.

Friday, June 21, 8 pm Garden Concert*
Motown & More: Al McKenzie Quintet

As the anniversary of the passing of the Queen of Soul Aretha Franklin approaches, we present the famed Al McKenzie, her final music director. He's a Detroit gem known for collaborating, performing, arranging and directing some of the heroes of Motown and R&B. A long-time music director for the Temptations, his credits read like a who's who of music: The Spinners, Jean Carne, The Four Tops, Mary Wilson, The Supremes, The Contours, Etta James, Stevie Wonder,
